PROFILE

Ultimately my goal is to pursue the field of graphic design with the innovation of creative cultural growth and the wisdom found within my passionate capacity for detail and organization.

EXPERIENCE

FREELANCE GRAPHIC DESIGNER, WVU; MORGANTOWN, WV-DC AREA — 2006-2010

Experience is not always gained in a traditional office space or cubicle but the wisdom learned is just as profound to a young design professional. From working with personal clients to reformatting work to be press ready, nothing can teach you more than hands on experience. One on one meeting's with clients, working towards an ideal final product that highlights their business and my professionalism in the best way possible.

GRAPHIC DESIGN INTERN, WVU BUSINESS INCUBATOR; MORGANTOWN, WV — 2008-2009

Working with small business owner's in West Virginia that needed immediate graphic design attention my responsibilities included client website designs and department newsletter that exercised the attention of an entire summer and most of fall semester to reach a final product.

STUDENT WORKER, BREW & GOLD; MORGANTOWN, WV — 2007-2009

Stationed in the busiest and largest dorm complex on campus there were many things to be done at this coffee shop, from serving fresh hot brewed cafe lattes to locating the last barbeque chicken wrap in the kitchen. Every latte or sandwich was filled to order, whether a student worker or a manager each had one job that was most important; pleasing the customer.

EDUCATION

West Virginia University, Morgantown, WV — Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree, 2009 May

SKILLS

While working in a retail environment, I learned to greet each customer with the value and smile they deserve. Customer service should be every team member's priority and in my two years as a student worker all customers received their order with a happy demeanor that is always my privilege to give. As a designer I proudly exert software proficiency in all adobe cs4 programs including Illustrator, Dreamweaver, Photoshop, Flash, and In-design on both Mac and PC platforms. Displaying exceptional verbal and writing skills with a people person and team player attitude, and willing to work till the end for the best possible final result that emphasizes the client's needs and increases personal growth in the designer.
